Toss-ups

1. It extends across the back of the abdomen behind the base of the stomach and has many functions. As part of the digestive system it secretes enzymes for digesting proteins, fats, and carbohydrates, but as part of the endocrine system it produces insulin which regulates the use of sugar in the body. FTP, name this human organ.

Pancreas

2. It is an arid South American plateau bordered on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the west by the Andes Mountains, and on the north by the Colorado River. Both Argentina and Chile control parts of this area. FTP, name this region.

Patagonia

3. In its simplest form, it consists of two coils of wire placed close to each other but which have no wire connections. It transfers energy from one circuit to another by electromagnetic induction. It is usually used to change the voltage or current in an electric circuit to either a higher or lower value. FTP, name this device.

Transformer

4. He believed that change or movement was the basis of all reality, and that time should not be measured scientifically since, for human beings, time operates as a continuous flow in which past and present are inseparable from the memory and the consciousness. Although known mainly as a philosopher, he was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1927. FTP, name this French philosopher and author.

Henri Bergson

5. He had no musical training and could only play the black keys on his piano, and then only in the key of F sharp. He wrote the scores for such musical comedies as Call Me Madam and Annie Get Your Gun. Of the over 800 songs he wrote, some of the best known are "God Bless America" and "White Christmas." FTP, name this American songwriter.

Irving Berlin

6. In 1669, German alchemist Hennig Brandt was searching for the philosopher's stone which would turn base metal into gold. To that end, he heated evaporated urine with sand and coal but instead got a white solid which glowed in the dark and spontaneously combusted in the air. The substance he discovered is an element required by every living plant and animal cell. FTP, name this element which has atomic number 15.

Phosphorus

7. He was born in Sioux City, Iowa in 1890. In 1935, Franklin Roosevelt appointed him to head the Works Products Administration and in 1938 he became Secretary of Commerce. In 1940, due to illness, he resigned that post and went to live in the White House where he became FDR's personal aide and chief liaison to foreign governments throughout World War II. FTP, name this man.

Harry Hopkins

8. Maratua, Sumba, Ceram, Sulawesi, Buru, Bangka, Bali, Damar, Timor, Java, and Sumatra are all islands that are part of, FTP, what Asian nation?

Indonesia

9. He was born in London in 1899 where he attended St. Ignatius College. In 1920 he joined a movie company in London and in 1925 directed his first film The Pleasure Garden. He made more films including The Lodger, and The 39 Steps in England before moving to the U.S. in 1939. He continued to direct movies there including Suspicion, North by Northwest, and Psycho. FTP, name this film director.

Alfred Hitchcock

10. It is a wind that blows from a large continental area to the ocean during the winter and then reverses direction and blows from the ocean to the land during the summer. This wind occurs in many areas including Central America, West Africa, and India and causes dry weather in the winter and heavy rains in the summer. FTP, name this wind.

Monsoon

11. This form of satire exists in all the arts but is most prominent in literature. Its distinguishing feature is that the satire is directed at the art itself and not at something external to it. FTP, name this form of satire.

Parody

12. Tangshan, China in 1976; Mexico City in 1985; Armenia in 1988; Iran in 1990; Luzon in the Philippines in 1990; Maharashtra, India in 1993; and Northridge, California in 1994 all suffered what natural disaster?

Earthquake

13. He served in the Ford and Carter administrations and was a member of the faculty at Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government. He has written many books including The Next American Frontier, The Resurgent Liberal, and The Work of Nations. He currently serves as the Secretary of Labor in the Clinton Administration. FTP, name this man.

Robert Reich

14. "Chronic Town," "Murmur," "Reckoning," "Fables of the Reconstruction," "Life's Rich Pageant," "Document," "Green," "Out of Time," "Automatic for the People," and "Monster" are all albums made by, FTP, what band from Athens, Georgia?

R.E.M.

Spanish Civil War

16. When Hugo Ball, Emmy Hennings, Hans Arp, Tristan Tzara, Marcel Janco, and Richard Huelsenbeck began the Cabaret Voltaire in Zurich, Switzerland in 1916, they also began an artistic movement. This movement intended to replace logic and reason with deliberate madness and to substitute intentionally discordant chaos for established notions of truth and beauty in the arts. FTP, name this artistic movement.

17. She was the chief of the Gorgons. When she dallied with Poseidon in Athena's temple, Athena was outraged and turned her hair into serpents and made her face so terrible that anyone who looked at it was turned to stone. The hero Perseus killed her by cutting off her head while looking at her reflection on his shield. FTP, name this Greek mythological figure.

Medusa

18. This novel's point of view shifts among its various characters as Addie Bundren dies and her family takes her body to the town of Jefferson for burial. FTP, name this novel written by William Faulkner.

As I Lay Dying

19. Born in 1875, he became a doctor in 1902. He was interested in psychology and in 1907 met Sigmund Freud. The association between the two men was important to both of them, but in 1913 they broke from each other because they could not agree on the broader applications for psychology. He went on to develop such concepts as the collective unconscious, animus/anima, and introvert and extrovert types. FTP, name this analytical psychologist.
