

PACKET ONE

One track off this album plays as Jim runs to Stifler's house while Nadia changes in his room in front of a webcam in American Pie. The music video for one song off this album zooms in and out of photographs on the wall behind the band to the seaside, a woman talking on a payphone, and parties. In one track off this album, the singer says there is a "creature from above" in the backroom and notes that "the CIA would say what you hear is all hearsay." That song, "Aliens Exist" follows "Don't Leave Me" on this album. The singer says "I just held such better days, days when I still felt alive" in the track "Adam's Song" off this album. In another track on this album, the singer notes "nobody likes you when you're 23." For 10 points, name this Blink 182 album that includes the tracks "What's My Age Again?" and "All the Small Things."

ANSWER: Enema of the State

This man tells Piangi to lose some weight and later murders him and takes his place. This murderer of Joseph Buquet was rescued from a traveling circus by Madame Giry. This author of "Don Juan Triumphant" says that Carlotta should play the Pageboy in "Il Muto" and instructs that Box 5 should be left open in notes he signs "O.G.". Christine says that this character sang to her in her sleep and came to her in her dreams and sings the duet "The Point of No Return" with him. After tying up Raoul, this character allows him and Christine to escape from his lair. For 10 points, name this "Angel of Music" who haunts the opera.

ANSWER: the Phantom of the Opera

At one point during this incident, a character spells "PLEH" so that helicopters will read "HELP" from the air because the car is out of gas. Just prior to this incident, one participant suggests getting "frozen yogurt or something." This incident causes one character to start smoking again and to cry for the first time in his life. A passenger on a plane to London defends one participant in this incident who instigated it by bringing a picnic basket to the other participant's workplace. "With or Without You" plays during this incident after which the cute girl from the Xerox place asks one participant to dance. Mark Robinson is blamed as an instigator for this incident during which one participant sleeps with Chloe. For 10 points, name this time period during which two characters on Friends were not dating.

ANSWER: Ross and Rachel taking a break [or "We were on a break" or equivalents]

One character on this show is deemed unfit to care for an infant after it nearly drowns while attempting to save him from a sinking boat. Cyrus is killed after trying to steal a submersible in this show. One character on this show is accused of cheating on his final exam because he wrote the lyrics to "Bohemian Rhapsody." David trains to join the SkyBax in this show. Karl teaches Zippo to play ping pong on this show which opens with a plane crashing in the ocean near an uncharted island. Sunstones gathered from the World Below power Waterfall City in this show. For 10 points, name this miniseries in which dinosaurs and humans cohabitate.

ANSWER: Dinotopia

A hang glider is used to get to this location after a police chase ends at the edge of a cliff. After a car crash en route to this location, Freakshow suggests a foursome. While traveling to this location, a man is bit by a raccoon in a car and is forced to go to the hospital where his friend is mistaken for his brother and must perform surgery on a gunshot victim. Neil Patrick Harris apologizes for his actions while high on ecstasy at one of these locations. Bradley is arrested at Princeton University for selling marijuana to two characters who are attempting to reach this location after finding out that one of these restaurants was replaced with a Burger Shack. For 10 points, name this fast food restaurant that Harold and Kumar visit.

ANSWER: White Castle

After his little brother Alex tries to eat his exploding Mentos, this character tosses them into a pond. This character witnesses dogs playing the piano and serving drinks at Kenworth Estate. After a story about him fighting bullies at a girl's 16th birthday party makes the school newspaper, this character is suspended from work. This character gives a Natalie a necklace with a tracking device in it for her birthday, and uses it to rescue her from Dr. Brinkman's lab where he has strapped an icecube filled with nanobots to her face. This character's starts working for the CIA after a summer camp and his goal is to "Save the world. Get the Girl. Pass math." For 10 points, name this teenage undercover spy agent played by Frankie Muniz.

ANSWER: Agent Cody Banks

This person, who was baptized at Sea World, has a cake-shaped patronus and once tried to climb Mountain Dew. This person once stared at a carton of juice because it said concentrate. This person reportedly knew Burger King when he was a prince and attempts to listen to 50 Cent using quarters. Santa Claus does not laugh, he just says this person's name over and over. In Monty Python and the Holy Grail, this person is described as being a hamster who is married to someone who smells of elderberries. This person is so fat she can be found on both sides of the family. For 10 points, name this member of your family that is frequently the subject of jokes about promiscuity or obesity.

ANSWER: your mom [accept yo momma or other equivalents]

In the music video for this song, a girl carries a briefcase with a white lamb on it into an elevator and later picks up the singer in a green car with California license plates. The pink-shirt and tie-wearing singer of this song runs through a group of nuns with a bloody hand before running into a hobo's shopping cart. in the music video. The singer of this song says he keeps "pretending the sun will not rise" and says that "when I sleep, I dream and it gets me by." This is the title track of an album that also includes "One Year, Six Months," "Only One," and "Way Away." This song mentions "a place on the corner of Cherry Street" and a place off the title location where the singer "used to sit and talk with you." The singer of this song says "If I could find you now, things would get better." For 10 points, name this song by Yellowcard.

ANSWER: "Ocean Avenue"

A pimp in this movie says "We are creatures of the underworld. We cannot afford to love" to convince his prostitute to leave her lover. When a prostitute in this movie doesn't show up for an appointment, her pimp tells the client that she has gone to confession to feel like a virgin. The Duke insists that the courtesan choose the maharajah in a production of "Spectacular Spectacular" in this movie. The playwright Christian sings the duet "Come What May" with his lover before she succumbs to tuberculosis at the end of this movie. For 10 points, name this movie in which Nicole Kidman plays the terminally ill cabaret dancer Satine.

ANSWER: Moulin Rouge!

A character of this profession used to date the journalist Polly Perkins who recovers two vials from Dr. Jennings that were from Vargas. That character of this profession fights robots and invades Dr. Totenkampf's island lair to release escape pods of animals on an ark. One character with this profession played by Dennis Quaid ambushes a group of smugglers who kill Rodney when stranded in the Gobi desert. A character of this profession taps his girlfriend Ava Gardner's phone and has a mental breakdown when the FBI searches his home. Leonardo DiCaprio plays a character with this profession who directs the movie Hell's Angels and crashes the Spruce Goose. For 10 points, name this profession central to Sky Captain and the World of Tomorrow and The Aviator.

ANSWER: pilot

Debbie gives this product to Donnie when they are stranded in the desert in one episode of The Wild Thornberrys. Frankie pokes this product that is currently being used by Frenchy during "Beauty School Dropout" in Grease. Liz describes how she killed her husband because he pops this thing one more time in the song "Cell Block Tango" from Chicago. One version of this product comes in a pink tape dispenser and includes six feet. Violet Beauregarde turns into a blueberry after trying an experimental version of this product in Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory. Blibber-Blubber was the first product of this type, examples of which include Bazooka, Hubba Bubba, and Double Bubble. For 10 points, name this chewy pink stuff.

ANSWER: bubblegum

After Pamela goes missing, this character interview her friends from the Girl Guides. This character sprained her ankle and is recuperating at home, where she sees all the comings and goings of the vicarage in St. Mary Mead. This character goes to Somerset House to check marriage records, leading her to discover that Josie and Mark are married. This character sets a trap for Mark and Josie by asking Conway to say he is leaving all his money to a hostel for dancers. This character interview the Crackenthorpe clan after a murder on a train in “4.50 from Paddington” and investigates the murder of Ruby Keene in “The Body in the Library.” For 10 points, name this octogenarian detective created by Agatha Christie.

ANSWER: Miss Marple

All of Liechtenstein’s medals at the Olympics come from this sport, six of which were won by Hanni and Andreas Wenzel. The Herminator won the World Cup in this sport in 2004, defeating the previous champion Stephan Eberharter. Phil and Steve Mahre were competitors in this sport whose women’s FIS World Cup champions include Anja Parson and Janica Kostelic. Equipment brands used in this sport include Fischer, Volkl, Salomon, and Rossignol. Variants of this sport include Super-G, GS, downhill, and slalom. For 10 points, name this winter sport practiced by Bode Miller.

ANSWER: alpine skiing

This band’s singer says “I’m a mess, I’m a wreck” on the song “Let’s Get Fucked Up and Die” which appears on their second album prior to the song “Better Open the Door” which mentions “sad attempts at breakdancing in every bar along Lyndale Avenue.” This band’s singer says “I’m just a stupid fuck with brilliant luck” in a song in which he promises the title person that “it’s not your fault.” That song, “Hangman” appears on the same album as “When You’re Around” and “Attractive Today.” In one song, the singer of this band says that he hates “the ocean, theme parks, and airplanes” and requests the listener to “tell me that you’re alright.” For 10 points, name this pop punk band from Minneapolis whose album Commit This to Memory contains the track “Everything is Alright.”

ANSWER: Motion City Soundtrack

This character is described as a “dwimmerlaik” and a “lord of carrion.” Glorfindel spoke a prophecy about this character’s death after he fled to Carn Dum and later watched him drown at the Ford of Bruinen. This character who controls the Barrow wights gained his name after waging war against Arthedain and the Dunedain. This character changed the name of Minas Ithil after he conquered it. Earnur accepted this man’s challenge to fight, after which the Stewards ruled Gondor. This conqueror of Arnor and ruler of Angmar stabs the ringbearer at Amon Sul. After Snowmane falls on Theoden, Merry stabs this character in the back of the knee and Eowyn kills him and his Fell beast. This king was one of the nine men who received rings from the elves. For 10 points, name this second in command for Sauron and leader of the Nazgul.

ANSWER: Witch-King of Angmar [prompt on “Nazgul”; do not accept Khamul or any other name because the Witch-King is never named]

On one episode of this show, cast members take part in a “roof wetting” ceremony in Bermuda before departing on the Island Raider. The host of this show travels to the “Flats” in a Ford Model A named Woody in one episode of this show. “Sweat equity” was a point of contention during the episodes of this show that focused on Weatherbee Farm. The original host of this show was fired and started his own show called Home Again. Episodes of this show hosted by Bob Vila are played as reruns under the title The Renovation Guide. One member of this show’s cast also does carpentry for The New Yankee Workshop. For 10 points, name this PBS home improvement show hosted by Kevin O'Connor that features Norm Abram and Tom Silva.

ANSWER: This Old House

In one song, this band's singer says "I've got a gun in my hand but that gun won't cock" and notes that "the days they seem like forever." That song, "Point/Counterpoint" follows "That'll Be the Day" on this band's first full length album which also includes the tracks "A Moment of Silence" and "The Big Sleep." The cover art for that album by this band shows a girl wearing a tank top and collar necklace and only uses the colors red, black, and white. Three members of this band were previously part of Catch 22. The lead track off this band's first album begins with "and the story goes like this, everything went numb for the money and the guns." For 10 points, name this third wave ska band that whose albums include Everything Goes Numb.

ANSWER: Streetlight Manifesto

John Stamos told this character she was pretty on a plane and her favorite movie is Varsity Blues. This character makes car commercials in Japan and her hair is insured for $10,000. This character calls Taylor Wedell's mom pretending to be Planned Parenthood. This character is described as "the Barbie doll I never had" and can't go to Taco Bell because she's on an all carb diet. This character used to date Aaron Samuels and kisses him in front of Cady Heron at a Halloween party. Everyone has felt personally victimized by this person who is friends with Karen Smith and Gretchen Wieners. For 10 points, name this ringleader of the Plastics in Mean Girls.

ANSWER: Regina George

This song replaced "The Way We Make a Broken Heart" at the top of the Billboard Hot Country Singles chart and was the third Number One song for the band after "Long Hard Road" and "Modern Day Romance." The singer of this song says he has "waited all winter for the time to be right" and now that "spring is almost over" his baby should "get ready." This song describes a location "across the field where the creek turns back by the ole stone road" and a "lazy yellow moon comin' up tonite." The singer of this song wants to "jump in the river and cool ourselves" while doing the title action followed by "lying on our backs and counting the stars where the cool grass grows." For 10 points, name this song by the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band about angling at night.

ANSWER: "Fishin' in the Dark"

Chadwick Merriweather III accuses this band of treating him like a dog in one music video, after which they say they'll take the clothes, cash, cars and money. This band's singer says that people talk "just because" he walks "like Obi-Wan Kenobi" but that's okay because he has found a clique to call his own. This band rides golf carts around a high school while a baseball player tells them they still suck after breaking into the principal's office and dedicating a song to "every kid who has ever been called a freak." This band's self-titled album includes the tracks "The Motivation Proclamation" and "Little Things." "The Anthem" and "Lifestyles of the Rich & Famous" are other tracks released by this band. For 10 points, name this pop punk band with siblings Joel and Benji Madden that released The Young and the Hopeless.

ANSWER: Good Charlotte

Cary Elwes plays the villain, Edgar, in this movie.

Hattie is the president of Char's fancub in this movie and on a tour of his castle the tour guide demands that the girls "stop tonguing the foyer".

Minnie Driver - Mandy

Vivica A Fox - Lucinda

Sing "Somebody to Love" in a tavern, "Don't Go Breaking My Heart" cursed to be obedient

For 10 points, named this movie based on a Gail Carson Levine book starring Hugh Dancy and Anne Hathaway.

ANSWER: Ella Enchanted

In one music video this singer steals an "everything is bigger in Texas" t-shirt from her surfer ex-boyfriend. This singer laments that "You always dress in yellow/When you want to dress in gold" on her debut single. "All About You" and "Sparks" are singles from this singer's upcoming album This Heart. The theme song for the MTV show Laguna Beach was sung by this artist. This artist's album Metamorphosis includes the tracks "Come Clean" and "So Yesterday." After being mistaken for a pop star, this artist sings "What Dreams Are Made Of" in the Colosseum.

For 10 points, name this singer and actress most famous for starring in Lizzie McGuire.

ANSWER: Hilary Duff

A Cinderella Story

Sings "...Baby One More Time" (badly) in Freaky Friday

one tree hill

Tristan on Gilmore Girls

Dawson's Creek

ANSWER: Chad Michael Murray